Sometimes
Some times the world gets hard
Ill take it from here, girl
Dont you worry

I wanna be a lake for you, babe
And any problems that you have I wanna wash em away
I wanna be your sky, so blue and high
And every time you think of me I wanna blow your mind

I wanna be your air, so sweet and fair So when you feel that you cant breathe, ma, Ill be there
I wanna be your answer of time
When you see how I put your life before mine with no question

When all the love feels gone and you cant carry on Dont worry, girl, Imma take it from here
Just as sure as the sun will shine every mornin,
every time
Dont worry, girl, Imma take it from here

I wanna hold your hands, review all your plans
I wanna make sure every one of your dreamsll stand
I wanna be your Broadway show on review (Why)
So I could act how God was when he made you

I wanna be your lighthouse when you get lost Ill light a bright and shiny path to help you across (Light the way for you, baby)
I wanna be your mother, see what I see
When you see that cant nobody hold you like me cause
I love you

When all the love feels gone and you cant carry on Dont worry, girl, Imma take it from here (Take it from here, baby)
Just as sure as the sun will shine every mornin,
every time
Dont worry, girl (No, no, no, no), Imma take it from here

And when theres no one there at home and you realize the world is cold

Dont worry, girl, Imma take it from here (Thats what Im gonna do)

Just as sure as the sun will shine every mornin, every time (Dont you worry, baby, baby girl)

Dont worry, girl (Baby girl), Imma take it from here
