"The Key"

Though I am not worthy to call out your name
I still inquire and I still want to be saved
From the closure they stand up
And the marks they brand on
And I'll keep my soul locked up till I find the key

[Chorus:]

As we return to innocence
We'll let the sun and the moon guide our way
As we return to innocence
This Picasso work reforms our face

I know your hands heal and your words inspire
And I hope and pray and hope I will be coming to your country
And then I'll find pure happiness
In the scent of your breath
And I'll keep my heart locked up till I find the key

[Chorus]

Through this uncalled quarrel
Through these stressful times
You know that there's no other
But the one that I love for life

Though I am not worthy to call out your name
I still inquire and I still want to be saved
From the closure they stand up
And the marks they brand on
And I'll keep my heart and soul locked up till I find the key

[Chorus]
