I was guessing what it feels like
To have a girl that wants me
Say exactly what she feels like
So that I could see

This traffic light I'm stopped at
Tells me when to go
With all of these mixed signals
I am feeling overthrown

You say you want to take a rest
Just a little break
That would be okay with me
If my heart wasn't at the stake

This traffic light I'm stopped at
Tells me when to go
With all of these mixed signals
I am feeling overthrown

How will I ever conquer this mountain
Without you with me by my side
How will I ever find the right time
To pull you close and make you mine

This traffic light I'm stopped at
Tells me when to go
With all of these mixed signals
I am feeling overthrown

You wanted me to be flawless
Your knight in shining armor
My suits a little dirty
And this disease I can't cure

This traffic light I'm stopped at
Tells me when to go
With all of these mixed signals
I am feeling overthrown
