Break apart the chain
Nothing to gain
You only have yourself to loose
When you accept
That life is nothing but a choice
A choice and you can't choose

No pleasure without pain
Truth will remain
Never so far that you can't see
All that you could be
All the time spent wondering
You could have changed, your destiny

Chorus:

Dream beyond your dream,
Beyond your wildest fantasy
If you look beyond then you might see
Truth in what should be
It will set you free

Never again, never again will I doubt it
Never again, never again will I doubt it
Never again, never again
