Composed by Kim, Jaejung
Lyrics by Kyoko Hamler

It's close to mornin'
And can't I see your face
How'd we end up this way
You were the sun in every day
You'd take my soul
Every time you'd go
But this time I know
The truth is in your heart; we're dead and gone

I know you're tired of broken promises
I had too many 'second chances'
I'm a lost man for you, will I ever break through?

I'm still in love (still in love, but)
She's thinking of (everyone, but)
The very one (I should move on, but)
Who's still in love

I'm still in love (still in love, but)
She's thinking of (everyone, but)
The very one (I should move on, but)
Who's still in love

I just can't stand to think
What my days will be
Without you by my side, I just can't breathe
It don't matter what they say
I know nobody can ever take your place

I know you're tired of broken promises
I had too many 'second chances'
I'm a lost man for you, will I ever break through?

I'm still in love (still in love, but)
She's thinking of (everyone, but)
The very one (I should move on, but)
Who's still in love

I'm still in love (still in love, but)

She's thinking of (everyone, but)
The very one (I should move on, but)
Who's still in love

I'm still in love (still in love, but)
She's thinking of (everyone, but)
The very one (I should move on, but)
Who's still in love

It's painful that everyone knows
It's so true
I'm nothing but a fool for you

But I don't care, I'll always be here
Loving you with all I got
I don't care if you love me or not

I'm still in love (still in love, but)
She's thinking of (everyone, but)
The very one (I should move on, but)
Who's still in love

I'm still in love (still in love, but)
She's thinking of (everyone, but)
The very one (I should move on, but)
Who's still in love

I'm still in love (still in love, but)
She's thinking of (everyone, but)
The very one (I should move on, but)
Who's still in love
