Lightning strikes when it hits the ground
Heavy is the hand that wears the crown
Wheels are gonna roll, drums gonna pound
Love is a drug that you can't put down
Love is a drug that you can't put down

There are forces of nature at work in my soul
I cannot fight, I cannot control
It starts with a look, it leads to a kiss
Then something takes a hold, and turns into this

Lightning strikes when it hits the ground
Heavy is the hand that wears the crown
Wheels are gonna roll, drums gonna pound
Love is a drug that you can't put down
Love is a drug that you can't put down

A double-edged sword, it cuts both ways
A rose and a thorn, my pleasure my pain
That's how it is, how it's always gonna be
It'll always have this power
This power over me

Lightning strikes when it hits the ground
Heavy is the hand that wears the crown
Wheels are gonna roll, drums gonna pound
Love is a drug that you can't put down
Love is a drug that you can't put down

If you wanna get the water that's pure and sweet
Everybody knows that you gotta dig deep

Lightning strikes when it hits the ground
Heavy is the hand that wears the crown
Wheels are gonna roll, drums gonna pound
Love is a drug that you can't put down
Love is a drug that you can't put down

Love is a drug that you can't put down
