"So It Shall Be"

Shadows, now curtain the moon
But faith swears it will shine again soon
Shine with love, you've been hiding from me

Your kiss has hindered my day
A longing that won't go away
You just keep knocking and waking my heart
Like daylight chasing the dark

I can exist being caught by your kiss, willingly
Or grant you control of my body and soul
Ask it and so it shall be

Shadows, now curtain the moon
Still faith swears it will shine again soon
Shine with love you've been hiding from me
With that love you've been hiding from me

I can exist being caught by your kiss, willingly
Or grant you control of my body and soul
Ask it and so it shall be, ask it and so it shall be, oh
