I am wrought with paranoia
For I have brought myself before you
Nakedly awaiting, you're okay

Now could it be that I annoy you?
Flaunting ways that I adore you
I have no control here, either way

I awake at night with it
And in spite of it, it unravels me
It's begun to frighten me

Is it so that my persistence
Blocks the path of least resistance?
Maybe I'm just getting in your way

But I'm alright
If you're okay
I'm alright
If you're okay

Can you offer some assistance?
Let me in on how for instance
I should be convincing you to sway

I awake at night with it
And in spite of it, it unravels me
It's begun to frighten me

But I'm alright
If you're okay
Yeah, I'm alright
If you're okay
