written by Diane Warren from "The Hurricane" soundtrack

They can put chains around my body never put no chains around my soul never gonna claim this pride inside me never can possess what they can't own I know I'll find my way might take a long time I know I'll reach my dreams might be a long climb

One more mountain will not stop me
I'll fly above it like the wind
I'll be free again, free again
and then, chains could never hold me I'll rise above the state I'm in
I'll be free again, free again

Funny how I see the sunlight shining feelin' warm as honey on my skin in my soul, I know the day is comin' on that day, a new day will begin I spread these wings and leave the tears behind me I'll make my break from all the things that bind me
'cause it's one more mountain

One more mountain will not stop me
I'll fly above it like the wind
I'll be free again, free again
and then, chains could never hold me
I'll rise above the state I'm in
I'll be free again, free again

And I will get through this night to that brighter day nothing could stand in my way

One more mountain will not stop me

I'll fly above it like the wind
I'll be free again, free again
and then, chains could never hold me
I'll rise above the state I'm in
I'll be free again, free again
