This is an ambush

Yo, check it

Lookin' at my watch it's about that time to ascend with this art of Zen

Another rhyme manifested in the physical miracle emcee-in'

Leading to a revolution

Solution is seeing the mind as it rotates

Make no debate, when I regulate, all the gens will terminate

'Cause we cut and slice irrelevance to the bone

And decapitate rappers that idolize Al Capone or Jimmy Hoffa

Not a hip-hop poppa, just a vigilante with the mic that I shot ya

Chopped up, beat 'em and we proceeded to rock tha bells

Movin' quite well, so we got 'em hopped the

Trained, raw, like Big Daddy Kane

Plus I'm born on the same day as Kurt Cobain

Rap nirvana, call me the beat piranha

Without the drama, yeah

Don't get this wrong

This revolution song

Hoping the wind can blow your way for once

A man is truly dead when confident

That's why we're all still waiting here so long

Astrologically, I'm the water and the fish

Made a wish, now i'm stone-cold lyrical catalyst

I don't eat fish, chicken or hamburger

But I eat phony emcees on a hot plate

God's great

Magnificent and beneficent

This is militant, in particular significant

To the people, masses, lower classes

Making the hardest of hard keloidal and flaccid

Contaminants with backstage laminate sheet unoriginal thoughts

That's why we stay adamant
Which we perceive to alter the mind-state Making time wait, holding us up for hostage
I lost it somewhere back in '96
When it's safe I'll play the game, I'm back in the mix
With a brand-new bag of magic and pixie dust
Love hip-hop, pray it never turns into lust (take it out)

Don't get this wrong
This revolution song
Hoping the wind can blow your way for once
A man is truly dead when confident
That's why we're all still waiting here so long

Hey!
Hey!
Hey!

Aiiiiieeeee!

Don't get this wrong
This revolution song
Hoping the wind can blow your way for once
A man is truly dead when confident
That's why we're all still waiting here so long

Commandante, come back home
Commandante, come back home
Commandante, come back home
That's why we're all still waiting here so long
