Chorus 1:

Don't ask me why, when their coming from the sky. Just let it go, theirs some things you'll never know.

K-os: See this right here, it will last for ever, tell my people if you have enough.

Chorus 2: I won't fear anymore, hip hop is back for sho, cause it took our love away, now shes come back to stay, i feel sorry for mc's who sold out so easily but the truth sha'll set them free free, have no fear, no no fear oh no.

Song Off. Begins:

It's a return of an original man from outer-space, the human race is like eye's without a face, I pulled your card, I saw you trying to fool God, and now your trying to switch up the game but its rather hard.

Damn, I thought that they was down for mine, but atlas a good woman is hard to find, I get up, really fet up with infidelity, this is my penalty for infiltrating with the melody.

At times, I look at my face in the mirror, and some day if the picture is clearer for me then for them, but then again, they sell crack to kids, and thats what is so I just attack the buise. This is my soul obligation, to unite this whole hip hop nation, face it we're taken over ya radio station, hay'sins this is the time for jubilation.

Chorus 2

Now, we can break it down like this, and we can break it down like that, they stole hip-hop.

Come on lets take it back, to east coast stomping, romping over the rythem and then I hit'em with the most beautiful jewls, that shine threw the darknass, sparkness cause some are confused with who the hardiest, artist, call me the fluent mc, slippen who the cracks bring it back definently.

Now who is the man thats forgotten his name, liven in shame and cant recall the place we're he came from, the same one dancing on your video screen, hidious dreams, i cant belive we do it for greed, but its da anthem to turn back the fables,wack mc's worken for lables. I'll see you all in the next life time, it's not Kheaven, just a message from Serious Seven.

Chrous 1 and 2
