[Verse 1]

This is a broadcast from the universe supersonic, bionic metaphor megahertz I'm on a mission with the mic in the hopes to spread the love from coast to coast hear the dose of energy My only enemy's inside of me trying to lie to me but my degree's in the anatomy of thoughts as they rotate like planets round the sun I observe them one by one like a scientist

(Hey)

Once again kids we breakin the rules
Taking to school, the emcees playing the fool
What do you do, when all eyes are looking at you for the answer to impossible questions that ain't true Thats when I fall back Recognize magnetic attraction pulling light down to this physical fraction Makes me human, thats why I humanize
I came to make you break to make ya equilibize

(Chorus)

There's no need to run
When your staring at the sun
There's one place left to go
And everybody knows
Things are gonna change
There's only better days coming

[Verse 2]

I'm back from sabbatical this mathematical magical stealth
With the microphone seeking knowledge of self Is here to elevate, regulate, or discombobulate the weight of illegitimate fate(now) Whatever the time, remember the mind's not the body it's probably my last time but maybe not cuz I've Got a new style now kids whats up Paying up the people means pop don't stop Ladies and gents this is schoolhouse rock

Changing the plot, hip hop, with me or not Rippin apart the stereotypical arts holding me back cuz raps not afraid of the dark James Hendrix was a hero to most thats why we crown and toast a brand new host All the unknowns, they were heroes to most thats why we crown and toast a brand new host

[Chorus]

There's no need to run
When your staring at the sun
And everybody knows
Things are gonna change
There's only better days coming

[Bridge]

I'm walking down this open road
I got to shake this heavy load I know there's things in life I'll never see cuz heaven only knows I've got this heavy load down this open road, now
