I walk down these city streets
Just a lonely man inspired
Hoping God will send me water down
To quench this burning fire

If I left here for the mountain
A monastery man
Things will stay the same so I'll remain
And show just who I am

Seeing things around me
Bonnie and Clyde
Graffiti with no message
Doctors, medicines, or pride

But it doesn't really matter
They're blowin' in the wind
On the cover of a magazine

Hallelujah
Babylon is falling
Babylon is falling
Hallelujah
Babylon is falling
Babylon is falling

I try to wash my dirty hands
But they won't come off the water
Hopin' truth will make me clean and then
Redeem my sons and daughters

Though they're not yet on the very highway
Pass along below
That's why I left my memories
Far behind the lazy road

Seems so simple
Future's the past
The present all the things
We holdin' on to make them last

But it doesn't really [Incomprehensible]

[Incomprehensible]

Hallelujah
Babylon is falling
Babylon is falling
Hallelujah
Babylon is falling
Babylon is falling

Hallelujah
Hallelujah
Hallelujah
Hallelujah
