Yo, the year is 2002, it's the end of the jiggy era
People on the planet Earth are tired
In an effort to aid in the great shipment
Millions of live bodies incarnate

To rock mic's complex, this hip hop alchemy
When I was a kid I watched Electric Company
Now I'm all grown living life to the bone
New tone, spaceship, take me home
Back to the seventh sun the seventh one
When I drop patience, Kevin's Dun
This eloquent macula is black enough
To bring a shake to Dracula

Uh, I'm hitting them with synonym adrenaline
Then I send them to the kingdom of the heavens
A matter of time before this rhyme
Infiltrates the bloodstream into the mind
Of a man living a life in Babylonia
How lonely, she went to California
Frisco, hypno's, get clothes
Crystals, take it a back to the raw rap

You, you're blind, baby
You're blind from the fact, oh yeah
'Cause you're watchin' that garbage

Ooh, I love this girl, she's a superstar
You can't change the world, you're a superstar
Ooh, I love this girl, she's a superstar
You can't change the world, you're a superstar

Okay, here we go, verse two

Yo, I got a lyrical shot aimed at the T Dot
Telling me that you are, when you know that you're not
Uptown, chillin' at the corner store
Thinking, "Why the hell do I front? I'm hardcore
Like Castro, master flows pass the golden links"

Whatever you think its all old, get it?
Whatever the cost I will not floss

Emcees act the boss, they all get tossed
Off the plank, hold the dank, I don't burn
I got a lot to say but really lots to learn

Turn baby, you're just not concerned
Whatever earned, thinking of the most high earned
I flip with this, some hit, some miss
Don't get fooled by lyrical ventriloquist, the twist
Most flee, I'm Kris, Najy, come back to flip rap
Do it to crowd, make 'em clap

Superstar, superstar, superstar

Get up, c'mon

Ooh, I love this girl, she's a superstar
You can't change the world, you're a superstar
Ooh, I love this girl, she's a superstar
You can't change the world, you're a superstar

Get up! Get up! C'mon!
