Didn't seem much
To get all worked up about
Something I said
Made us scream and shout

We've been here before
Wasn't such a big deal then
You forgave me
Thought you'd forgive again

But this time around
It seems You've made a stnd
I'm putting my foot down
On shifting sand

It's a situation
I'm not used to
Watching your front door
Is what I've been reduced to

Fame and fortune
Doesn't come that easily
You're the one who said
Enjoy it while You're free

Breathe in the air
The lights, the smoke, the band
The thrill of the audience
Eating from my outstretched hand

But lately I have to say
The juices haven't flowed
The needle's on empty
The car has left the road

The source of my aura
Was the faith I had in you
Now I just wonder
How on earth I continue

The people' number one
But what the hell for?

A nation's favourite son
But what the hell for?
I exercise my power
But what the hell for?
I've reached the final hour
But what the hell for?

Three whole weeks
Guess I have to face the fact
Hope has gone
Of her ever coming back

There's just two immortal lines
I'm thinking of
You love the thing you kill
And you kill the thing you love

Striving, driving
Sweeping all before me
So people I think that matter
Just can't ignore me

Never let go
No compromises
Now who can deny
Life's full of surprises

The people's number one
But what the hell for?
A nation's favourite son
But what the hell for?
I exercise my power
But what the hell for?
I've reached the final hour
But what the hell for?
