

Adam Brand

"There Will Be Love"

Visit "There Will Be Love" on MotoLyrics.com

The silence can be over whelming
The right words are so hard to speak and all that I know, is having you here, makes sense to me
Here in the dark, it's hard to see, all of the reasons we need to believe
There will be love
There will be love
Stronger than the stupid things we do then regret
There will be love, so never give up
I know there will be love in our lives,
just as long as we're willing to try

I know I can get so complicated
It's not easy admitting the faults
But knowing you're there, inches away
Tells me we are not too far gone
Who cares who's right, what difference does it make Beyond the questions and all our mistakes

There will be love
There will be love
Stronger than the stupid things we do then regret
There will be love so never give up
I know there will be love in our lives,
just as long as we're willing to try

The silences is over whelming
The right words are hard to speak
All I know is that having you here makes sense to me....
sure makes sense to me

Ohhh there will be love
There will be love
Stronger than the stupid things we do then we regret
There will be love so never give up
I know there will be love in our lives,
just as long as we're willing to try

