I suppose at times
I think about him
He was once so much
A part of me

And heaven knows
I have learned to live without him
Although hell it was
At times it was such a painful memory

But for all it matters now
If it does
And for all that I tried to be
But never was

For all the times I've cried
I wouldn't change it if I could
For all he meant to me
I remember the good

I'll forget to buy
All though the times we've had
Won't make me quite so sad
When I'm remembering

And for all the times I've tried
I wouldn't change it if I could
For all he's meant to me
I'll remember the good

All he's meant to me
I'll remember the good
