You walk by and my heart beats
A thousand times at once it seems
And every time you look at me
I have to tell myself to breathe
With just a smile you capture me
And I start to melt
Emotions then take over me
Like I've never felt

I could tell my heart each time..
It isn't love, you're just some guy
There's nothing there and what I feel
Is in my head, it isn't real
But I can't deny, can't even try
Cause I know inside butterflies don't lie

Is there a chance you could be mine
If I let you see inside
Or do you love somebody else
Should I keep this to myself?
I could risk a broken heart
By telling you the truth
Or I could keep my secret safe
And when I see you

I could tell my heart each time..
It isn't love, you're just some guy
There's nothing there and what I feel
Is in my head, it isn't real
But I can't deny, can't even try
Cause I know inside butterflies don't lie

Once again there you are
Anxiousness, nervous heart
Butterflies fluttering
Can only mean one thing

I could tell my heart each time
It isn't love, you're just some guy
There's nothing there and what I feel
Is in my head, it isn't real

But I can't deny, can't even try
'Cause I know inside butterflies don't lie
