I was a saint to you.
I never knew it.
A true believer, I had faith
And bound to it.
Was it love or just obsession?
To please you, I would never question
Your jaded point of view.

In my picture perfect world it all seemed right,
But I had to close my mind
To live that lie.
So afraid to make mistakes.
I lived in fear of my own fate.
But then I opened up my eyes...

Temptation.
Damnation.
Salvation.
I would risk it all.
To know, to go beyond the wall.
Unbroken.
I'm open.
Please make me not afraid to fall.
I gotta know, I gotta go beyond the wall.

In this world of contemplation
There's a real fine line
Between the truth and expectations.
You could lose your mind.
With every answer comes a question.
You gotta find your own direction.
You gotta open up your eyes...
Temptation.
Damnation.
Salvation.
I would risk it all.
To know, to go beyond the wall.
Unbroken.
I'm open.
Please make me not afraid to fall.
I gotta know, I gotta go beyond

A sacrifice security
The fantasy has died
But I don't know what way to be
But I'm on the other side.

Temptation.
Damnation.
Salvation.
I would risk it all.
To know, to go beyond the wall.
Unbroken.
I'm open.
Please make me not afraid to fall.
I gotta know, I gotta go beyond the wall.

Temptation.
Damnation.
Salvation.
I would risk it all.
To know, to go beyond the wall.

Temptation.
Damnation.
Salvation.
I would risk it all.
To know, to go beyond the wall.

Temptation.
Damnation.
Salvation.
Ooh
