In a world where the grotesque wander

Heaven is being torn to pieces

Where will the light lead them?

An infuriated storm, pulsing with pressure

No space to even let out a scream.

Where will the light lead us?

A miracle far from the mountains of Suzuka

Covering his eyes, a drop shines radiantly.

Swirling around the pupil, the road to hell.

Where will the light lead him?

The light coursing through the Underworld

A miracle far from the mountains of Suzuka.
