I turn back the hands of time To see what ive left behind All the memories within my heart and deep within my mind i see all the hardships ive endured and i rest assured that youll be there beside me like youve always been time and again

And with all thats said and done youve always been the one to hold me on those rainy days when i couldnt see the sun and when all the clouds dissappear and the sky is clear and i feel your love shining down on me without your love where would i be

you were the one who wiped the tears from my eyes it was your love that gave me light through my darkest time
what youve given me i can never repay all i could give to you is my loving embrace 'cause i live to see the smile upon your face day by day

I promise to go on until my race is won and the knowledge you have given me i give to those i love and ive learned that if i do succeed then i shall recieve the promise of a brighter day you give me hope, you give me faith

you were the one
who wiped the tears from my eyes
you were the one
what youve done me i can never repay so i live my life ???

'cause i live to see the smile upon your face

your love has always pulled me through and when i felt the hope was gone it was only you until my dying day my heart will always be and im so thankful for all the love yourve given me now i see

you were the one
who wiped the tears from my eyes
you were the one
what youve done for me i can never repay and i wont i promise you today

'cause id die to see the tears come down your face so i live in you i will live in your name the rest of my days...

dont u cry no more..
