I like the way you make me feel
How your sunset paints the field
The warmth it brings to me
That's how I know you're near

Your love is like the summer rain
Your shadow overrides the pain
When I need you most
You're here in every way

You're all that I need
You're all that I lack
You make forever easy to see
From the air that I breathe to the one I give back
You are the center of my everything

You are the constant in my life surrounding me
You are the light that shines when I am
Lost at sea
And when I'm feeling weak you are my strength

You're all that I need
You're all that I lack
You make forever easy to see
From the air that I breathe to the one I give back
You are the center of my everything

You're all that I need
You're all that I lack
You make forever easy to see
From the air that I breathe to the one I give back
You are the center of my everything
Yes You are the center of my everything
Yes You are the center of my everything
