Date: 1985

Last night a lady came knocking at my door knock knock open up, ain't seen her before what's your name she said to me, you look the playful kind

I an the angel you require come to waste your time

So I took some time to cool out, chase away the fear a man comes up to offer me some heavy smoking gear I said no thanks a lot, I don't shoot that stuff he looked mad, a gun came out, no ain't good enough stop and look around, or maybe you won't get much older people with ambition, there is danger round the corner

CHORUS

>>some people live on the streets by night and calm with a charm of a gun some people live on the streets alright
and calm with a charm of a gun
and calm with a charm of a gun
and calm with a charm of a gun
