

Kalai "Treason"

Visit "Treason" on MotoLyrics.com

Kalai - Treason

Treason,
You introduced my life to lasting death.
Your hatred leaves my eyes forever wet and I can't really feel the wounds that you've inflicted but I recognize the twisting of the blade.
I don't need your fever inside my head and I don't want your breath on my shoulder.
I may be sleeping with my eyes closed but I've been dreaming with my mind Wide open.
You, you aint my brother and you aint my friend and you won't be forgiven your treason.
No claim of ignorance can save you now.
No suffering story can get you out cause you put fire in the mouth of a demon. I don't need your fever inside my head and I don't want your breath on my shoulder.
I may be sleeping with my eyes closed but I be dreaming
with my mind wide open.
You aint my brother, you aint my friend and you won't be forgiven your treason. You don't care but I do.
You're kin to Judas. You don't matter.
But my babies do. You're kin to Judas.
Unforgiving

Visit Kalai page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.