

Kalapana

"Dorothy Louise"

Visit "Dorothy Louise" on MotoLyrics.com

i dont love you anymore
on a note she left
clinging to the backdoor
six years spent alone
seen enough, cryin over you after giving heart and soul
what more could i do?

well as i face another day tears keep fallin boy get off of your mellow colar ways dreaming wont help you forget her need another cry hope with love and time i feel you again

i dont love you anymore
broken heart and emptiness with nothing left,she walked out the door maybe someday i will find that peace and mind,we failed within each other when i think of what was lost they'll never be another would it be what all went wrong woman all i ask was maybe,"well would you keep it home"? but when i hear that you were tryin to find another man get what love you can, but what about me?

i dont love you anymore
on a note she left
clinging to the backdoor
six years spent alone
seen enough,cryin over you
after giving heart and soul
what more could i do?
well i dont love you (i dont love you)
i dont love you anymore

