It leaves a sou taste in my mouth,
looking back at me.
That one can be so full of doubt in one's will to be.

Where did I go wrong
to end up where I was yesterday?
Have I been lost too long
to ever find my way?

Breathe in, breathe out.
Leave all that behind.
So simple, yet so hard,
to free me of me.

So much I wish I could undo.
I've stayed alive on the hope that one day life will be through rubbing my nose in it.

Where did I go wrong
to end up where I was yesterday?
Have I been lost too long
to ever find my way?

Breathe in, Breathe out.
Leave all that behind.
So simple, yet so hard,
to free me of me.
