"Like A Thief"

I'm wearing this old blue sweater
The one that you've had since high school
I stole it one year as you stood in the mirror
And I said that the red one looked better
And just for a moment you hold me
As I pull it over my head
And the sleeves are too long
And the shape is all wrong
But it works for when I'm feeling lonely
And now every where I go I take a part of you with me
Did I take it like a thief or just carelessly?
And why did you have to go trust me?
A trust is an evil thing
'Cause I'm standing in front of the train while the driver screams and the angels sing
I cried when I opened you letter
But I could have told you so many hearts have been warned by this engineer's horn
But no heart ever wants to know better
And now every where I go I take a part of you with me
Did I take it like a thief or just carelessly?
You know all my secrets
You know everything about me
The way I take my love, my chances, my own sweet time, and my coffee
And now every where I go I take a part of you with me
Did I take it like a thief or just carelessly?
And now every where I go I take a part of you with me
Did I take it like a thief or just carelessly?
