White, blank page
This is the last clean slate
Documents fuel the rage
Words can't explain

Red stained glass
Through which some light will pass
To make you a crimson mask
No questions asked

Names nobody knows but me
Secrets only I can see
Can you keep up with me?
Race you to the ends of the Earth and sea
One
Two
Three

Blue clear sky
Nobody asked you why
Keep your mouth shut
So I can make it out alive

Black, veiled shroud
Horror to scream out loud
Bodies lie on the ground
Killed for what they found

No advantages
Violence ravages
Can we manage to escape from this
When there's no way out?
