Warmer days
You can feel the sun's rays
Filling you up again
I could stay
If you want it that way
We made it through a hard rain

Now your lilacs are in bloom again
You'll give me what you can you said
Thankful that rain fell over your plain
Now I remember your name

Memories last
Of a bitter past
But you're over the worst of it
I'm right here
Through another year
Though winter kept my heart away

You say you know me
You want me again
Grant me just one thing
Please promise me you'll try to stay the same
But if you change, you'll remember my name
You'll remember my name
