In the darkest space
In a secret place
I swim right through
To the coral blue
I never knew
How to sail on through
I guess I was reminded of you

From the inner core
Still needing more
Do what I can
I'm a simple man
Guess I always knew
What was needed to
Erase all the scars of you

I can't imagine where
I lost the strength the move

Don't fear what's coming
Just keep on running
Don't lie to yourself
You know you must learn to let it go

In a neutral zone
Far away from home
Where we can't attack
Give each other back
Now I'll never know
How the alternate ending goes
I guess it's just as well

I can't imagine why
I ever thought to stay

But somehow
I was hoping for miracle
An intervention from a higher power
To turn this disaster into a cease fire
Let me walk your high wire once more
Let me hold you one more time
