I left you standing at a crossroads
I had decided not to love you anymore
But you were more than I could let go of

I don't want to be alone
Wish I was never here at all
Why did I have to fall?

I never thought that I could hurt this much
How did I let you get so far inside?
You were the drug that left me wanting more

I don't want to be alone
Wish I was never here at all
Why did I have to fall?
Wish I was never here at all

You were everything to me
You made me feel complete
But now you have left my life
And I don't want to say goodbye
