This is no time to compromise
I will not settle for less than I deserve
I did all the work after all
It's my call

So turn, face the wall while I leave
You may never bring my reprieve
There is no use in making your case
I have decided

When we fall the sound of the crash will be all
That anyone hears for days
The pull of our orbit is so great I can't escape

This is no time for angels
We will not find salvation in this
We made the mistakes after all
It's our fault

We stay far too long, magnetized
We may never see the light
And so we go on, on repeat
Never complete

Can we pull apart?
Where do we start?
