Through the wind I hear myself break
I can't do this again
I can't open
I can't risk this
I've been hurt too deep within the layers

Feels like something between us has died
I feel alone
But I am too scared
To let you in
But you are already there

Your face is etched in my mind
But still I'm frozen inside
Sorry I must wave goodbye

I wish I could have more to say
You deserve an answer
But I am too numb
To find the words
I am too weak to stay with you

I know it's over
I know it's over
