

Casey Stratton "Static Into Sound"

Visit "Static Into Sound" on MotoLyrics.com

It's been a trying night
I am so cold and weary
Called you up on the phone
Just knowing you're there on the other end of the line
Might get me to the other side

Connected to you like never before
Losing my fear as I reach your shore
For so many years I pretended I didn't need anyone
But I know that I need you now
I know that I need you now

Followed the North star to you
We don't even need to speak
Lying beside you is enough for me
Just hearing the sound of your heartbeat can make
These trials melt away

Connected to you like never before
Losing my fear as I reach your shore
For so many years I pretended I didn't need anyone
But I know that I need you now
I know that I need you now

Connected to you like never before
Losing my fear as I reach your shore
For so many years I pretended I didn't need anyone
But I know that I need you now
I know that I need you now

I need you now
I need you now
Lift me up when I'm down
What I had lost is found
Turn the static into sound
Turn the static into sound

Visit Casey Stratton page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.