

Casey Stratton "Summer"

Visit "Summer" on MotoLyrics.com

Summer days past
Lying in the warm grass
I was young then
We were two like the wind
Always rolling
Never really touching down
Not aware yet
Things would complicate themselves

Summer days here
Now I see it clear
I am older now
I have learned how
To close up
To deny us
Was in love once
Now I bury us

So please remind me
Why I shouldn't leave you
It's so hard to change
When you remain the same

Summer can wait
I must deviate
I can't keep you next to me
One too many times
Stabbed by your knife
Still my heart fights
With my rational mind

Summer days past
We were young then
We were happy then

Visit Casey Stratton page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.