

Casey Stratton

"The Window Will Close"

Visit "The Window Will Close" on MotoLyrics.com

Maybe your saving grace will be yourself
You know better than anyone else
And I will try to bring support
If the wolves are hovering near your fragile heart
I'll do my part
And in time I know you'll learn
What you need to know
What you need to show everyone

The window will close
The horizon will show
What you already know
But still you will go
All the way back down
To the beginning and pound
On the first of these doors
There won't be any more

How many times can you play this scenario out?
Too many for you to count
We always have to try a thousand times
To get it right

Maybe this time you'll be fine
Get to the other side
Get to the other side

Visit Casey Stratton page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.