This is just a gun against your head
Nothing more than powder, steel and lead
Just salty water running down your chin
Placing bets you know you'll never win

A cute girl with her fingers crossed
Relieved by the weight she just lost
Flushed it down the toilet like before

To become the one she thinks we all adore

A 60 year marriage stuffed with hate
The awakening came 2 weeks late
The old man got his wish fulfilled
Crying by the stairs his wife got killed
