I look at you
And see myself
If I touch my skin
I'm touching you

All the tears in your eyes are like water to me
When I cry my eyes dry up instantly
When you talk - feel your breath - that's the air that I breathe
I'm screaming your name, tell me, can you feel the air I release
Can you?

Just look deep in my eyes and tell me what you see
I'm desperate to hold you, so eager to kiss you
So far from my skin and yet I'm feeling you here
Reflecting in you and you're reflected in me

I move my lips
And I spell Love
If I touch my skin
I'm touching you
All the tears in your eyes are like water to me
When I cry my eyes dry up instantly
When you talk feel your breath that's the air that I
breathe

Just look deep in my eyes and tell me what you see
I'm desperate to hold you, so eager to kiss you
So far from my skin and yet I'm feeling you here
Reflecting in you... Reflecting...
Just reach into my skin and tell me what you feel
I'm desperate to hold you, so eager to kiss you
So far from my eyes and yet I'm seeing you here
Reflecting in you and you're reflected in me
