I've got something to say,
When it feels right,
I'll take the rough ride
And trust the hearts guide,
Oh I know,

So many places to go,
I tell you when it feels right,
I'll choose the dark nights,
Over the daylight,
Oh I know.

I bet you've got something to say,
With the four winds blowing your way,
I bet you've got something to say.

And ooh,
All I really want you to know,
I am getting ready to go,
It's all I really want you to know.
Got to find the place where we belong.
Yeah,
I'm on my way.

Woke up at 4.35
Saw the day rise,
I saw the sun climb,
Upon the crossroads of my life.
So many places to go,
I'll tell you when it feels right,
I'll crash the hard drive,
And chase the real life,
Oh I know.

And I bet you've got something to say,
With the four winds blowing your way,
I bet you've got something to say,
Why don't you say what's on your mind.

Just know that we have nothing to loose,
So you'd better get ready to choose.

I bet you've got something to say.

And ooh,
All I really want you to know,
I am getting ready to go,
It's all I really want you to know.
Got to find the place where we belong
Yeah,
I'm on my way.

And ooh,
All I really want you to know,
I am getting ready to go,
It's all I really want you to know.

And ooh,
All I really want you to know,
I am getting ready to go,
It's all I really want you to know.

Got to find the place where we belong
