People won't talk, there's only your thoughts
Everything will be fine if you take that path
And nothing can change you
Your dreams always came
They come to this world through your hope
When you go there

Where your dreams take you
That place where your heart leads you
When all our dreams come together
We'll make a world together
Follow your feet toward your world
Where your hope takes you
The sunlight shines

You can go to the world which is waiting for you

Where your dreams take you
Where your hope takes you
That place in your soul
That place where you were led
Your strong will and your dreams are in that world
It shines brightly

Where your dreams take you
Where your hope takes you
Toward your world
The tough and tiring moments will seem short

Where your dreams take you
That place where your heart leads you
When all our dreams come together
We'll make a world together
Follow your feet toward your world
Where your hope takes you
The sunlight shines

The place of our dreams and hopes
Yes, together, us, everything
Where your dreams take you
