I'm living above the fault line like a bird up on the wire

I come in from the cold at night and I stand next to the fire now, most times I can win one but some day I could lose and I'll have to start all over again and shake off all these blues cause you tore down all the fences and you put me in the clear then I left my old skin behind and I started to disappear now there's something in the kitchen and it's cooking mighty fine there's a good one in the oven and I'm sure gunna get it mine in the interest of my nutrition I'm about to take a plunge

I'm going to take the whole thing in and I'm going to soak it up like a sponge need a map with new directions and a compass for the turns and I'll take that drink of water and let the old one burn

oh how you move me you turn me 'round nothing to hold me down

just like a magnet

you pull me in

got my instant reservation

when I'm feeling empty you make me full more love than I'll ever hold you touch me right where my heart is down I'm going to shed this skin and disappear

well I open the pots and look inside and I don't like what I see

I turn the key and take a ride in a wind that's blowing free in the interest of my education I'm about to read a book then I'll open my eyes in the morning I'll take another look

more love than I'll ever hold (I'll ever hold)
