The fire's inside me, the bridges burn
Love is the lesson but love never learns
And if it's all up to me, in a matter of time
All those memories will return

I gotta run a little faster
I gotta reach for the sky
I gotta come a little closer
Even if I lose, I gotta try

Inside of me is a man that I knew
Who could rattle these chains
Who can shake these cages

Inside of you is a dream that I see
And the echoes of voices are calling
Inside of me, inside of me

I've captured the nightmares that burst in your bed
I've run with the horses inside your head
And when I turned to walk away, I never heard you say
"We are hanging by a thread?"

So I skated in circles
Over cracks in the ice
And I stand in the shadows
And now my heart must pay the price

Inside of me is a man that I knew
Who could rattle these chains
Who can shake these cages

Inside of you is a dream that I see
And the echoes of voices are calling
Inside of me, inside of me

Inside of me is a man that I knew
Who could rattle these chains
Who can shake these cages

Inside of you is a dream that I see
And the echoes of voices are calling

Inside of me

Inside of me is a man that I knew
Who could rattle these chains
Who can shake these cages

Inside of you is a dream that I see
And the echoes of voices are calling
Inside of me, inside of me
Inside of me is a man that I knew
