(featuring Common)

(Hook)

My raps is better than yours
My plaques is better than yours
My tracks is better than yours
You can have one but I have to charge

We can start with the hits on my arm I already got the bomb

Now all I need is my first LP to go gold Then I will have the qualm, I-I-I-I'm

I'm Kan the Louis Vuitton Don

Bought my mom a purse now she Louis Vuitton Mom Still might throw on a little low arm they want me to stop go on go on

They don't want me to shop and me spending that hard Oh my God is that a black card?

I turned around and replied why yes,

But I prefer the term African-American Express

(Hook)

La La La La Off MTV La La La La When you gonna go out with Me

Brains, power and muscle like Dame, Puffy and Russell Your boy back on his hustle, don't know you don't discuss you

Every rapper want to know when they can get to work Every stylist want to know where they can get the shirts Everybody ripping my style like the shit that hurts But they don't give me my credit that's the shit that

There's something I might say, There's something I might play

A beat I might make might make they life change And save their whole deal, Their wrist is on chill They house is on hill, You could be Lauren Hill See y'all write songs to keep the lights on I'ma go in Def Jam and turn the brights on Man I'm just sayin When I wanted to rap y'all thought I was just playin Now you just prayin

(Hook)

[Common]

You was a vic in high school now you a thug

Better step in the name of love

Before you giving pain a hug

Needing dope is like pain to drugs

Or aiming slugs til the game unplugged

Like a scoreboard with vice and warlords

Hot merchandise prices they want more for it

You was pink as ice single need to think it twice

Over the bitch and you came out like freaks in the night

Freed your mind at a cheaper price on the street trying to seek advice

I'm on point like I speak to dice

Took the underground at a steeper heights

May real niggaz see the light got fat girls eating right

[Outro]
