We wait and wait and wait and wait,
but it's as if you lost your heart when you found God.
I never knew you could disappear so
please don't get me wrong.
Did you really find all that you would need
was to look us all in the face and ask us all to leave?
Well goodbye, good friend.
I didn't know the invitation was our intervention.
It's as if you lost your heart when you found God.

I never knew you could disappear so
please don't get me wrong.
Did you really find all that you would need
was to look us all in the face and ask us all to leave?
You lost your heart for your soul,
and it misses you.
You lost your heart for your soul,
and it misses you. We all do.
We wait and wait and wait and wait.
