

Karate "Every Sister"

Maybe, things are harder when you try, and I can brag if I want to. And you'd believe it if you want to. Maybe, if you repeat the situation, you could see my hesitation.
And I wouldn't feel so bad. But I can't figure you out. It's not the same for you I know, so let me bang my head against the wall if I want to. Maybe, I could see just how I missed her, and she could speak for every sister. And I wouldn't feel so bad. Maybe, she could be my generation, and she would feel my isolation. And I wouldn't feel so bad. But I can't figure you out, it's not the same for you I know. So let me bang my head against the wall if I want to.
