i am easily influenced by others dos and don'ts how can they bring me up so high to sink me down like a stone i'm flirting with a nation who wants to see me destroyed all the things they give to me are things that i should avoid cause i saw them turn you dark the soldier that's jaded is the one who can't fight there's too much evil in people to hold a gun without crying everyday i get a feeling that this love is a fake can't help myself being paranoid how can i push them away? they made me go dark now i'm blacker than black i don't know my way back i reach for a hand and they started to laugh don't see color no more coming straight from my soul they put black in my bones told me to get on with the show i caught myself from going dark there's worse things than dieing no, i don't stress about pain but you've put a world on my shoulder took my color away i hope you get dark so you're blacker than black and you won't know your way back you'll reach for a hand and i'll laugh like you laughed won't see color no more but you'll feel black in your soul i'll get on with the show and leave you out in the cold i made you go dark and everybody goes dark and all you people going dark the whole world just gets dark

the whole world just gets dark everybody goes dark
