Every single day, someone is born and someone dies
It wasn't long ago my uncle passed and my little niece came to life
I get to thinking about my time to go and it won't be long from now
I shiver inside at the chance that I might leave a life untouched by a vow

Chorus: And I believe tonight is the night that I decide
That I get busy living and I get ready to die
So that when the fateful day does come
When I'm six feet in the ground
The poor and the weak and the orphan and meek
Will miss having me around

When I pass I don't wanna leave a life of regret

So I give rise to change today by trying not to forget That pleasures do pass and sunrises end
And stars do fade away
But it's love and it's virtue and honor and truth
That remain for all days

Chorus

I want that final breath to be the sweetest of all
And it will be with certainty if I answer the call To help all those in need and decipher the meaning of life
'Cause the seekers of truth, they fear not death
Any more than they fear life

Chorus
