My friend, come with me
I know what you want to see
But it's neither here or there; in your heart, it will come to be

Close your eyes and come with me
Fear not the darkness you may see
The stars are our guides out there; in your heart, it will come to be

This Road we're on is not easy
To undertake in a day or three
But the path is somehow mysteriously

The very road we seek to achieve

Our beloved await us patiently
Awake while we rest sleepily
So let us close our eyes softly
And wake our hearts gracefully

When the morning dawns blissfully
We'll praise the night that had to be
And say "Now I see...now I see"
In your heart, it came to be
