Well, I learned
There's much to learn when I yearn
When I cry
When I feel like I wanted to die
And I felt
How much memories hurt
When the years have worn on and the future's unsure
And the world feels black and I can't
And I can't go back and make things right
And I'm scared that I might not make through tonight
But after a time I remember I can go back home

Chorus: And I'll keep saying the same prayers over again 'till I'm withered and gone
And I'll keep playing the same record in my head 'till I find my way home

Well, I know
There's much to know

As I grow from the past
Like the moon comes to bloom and then fades on at last
And I know there's a change in the season
And there's always a change for a reason
And I handle the seasons
Of my life
It was winter before, but he's gotta go
And only God knows what tomorrow will hold
So after a time I remember I can go back home

Chorus

I'm up, I'm down, I'm happy, I'm hurt
A prince amongst men, and I lay in the dirt
It really don't matter, I really don't care
As long as I know that You'll be there

Chorus
