The warmth of the sun, it feels healing
Warming the cold in my mind
An ocean of space sends me reeling
Easing my passage through time
Leaving it all behind

When she is gone she is gone
And when she just falls she just falls
Far too long

Cool of the shade feels relieving
Cracks that appear in my hide
The key to the day is withstanding
Kingdoms that fall and rise
Leaving it all behind

When she is gone she is gone
And when she falls she just falls
Far too long

Falls way beyond
Falls where she belongs
Falls way beyond
Falls where she belongs
